TASKI Scrubbing Brushes “Green Line”

Made from 100% recycled materials

TASKI Scrubbing Brushes “Green Line” is part of the new sustainable range of TASKI brushes made from recycled materials.

TASKI takes an integrated view of recycling and waste minimization. This philosophy is applied from the outset, beginning in the design stage by creating compact, ultra-efficient products that use high-recycling-value materials wherever possible.

TASKI Scrubbing Brushes “Green Line” are made from 100% recycled materials. The body is made from 100% recycled PPTV20 (Polypropylene reinforced with talc) and bristles from biodegradable PLA filaments (Polylactide -filaments), in order to avoid microplastics being released into the environment.

PLA, is a polyester based on renewable raw materials such as sugar cane or corn and is made up of lactic acid molecules that are easily biodegraded under appropriate industrial conditions, as conditions required for this process are not found in nature.
